What Makes for A Good Ontology?

- Main Contribution: Avoiding reclassification of phenomena
  - Allows for cognitive and computer processing at the level of category membership
- Good ontologies provide universally valid yet specific categories
- Category membership should remain valid
  - Over time
  - Between individuals
  - Across contexts