

Are sharks scary?

Sharks don't see people as food. Sometimes, if a person is bit by a shark it happened because the shark confused the person for a seal or fish. Remember, when you swim in the ocean, you are entering the habitat of wild animals. While you can have fun, if sharks are known to be in the area, don't enter the water. Cool Fact: Tiny electric shocks make muscles move. Sharks can sense these electric shocks through the water. This helps them find their food.
