

Expression of Interest for partners

There are two types of eligibility criteria for an initiative to be part of the R2R Campaign:

1. Inclusion-Exclusion

Criteria that an initiative must meet or agree to if it wants to be part of the Campaign.

2. Decision

Criteria from which the ERG members have to make their assessment and decide to recommend or not an initiative to become a partner.

Inclusion-Exclusion criteria

Criteria that an initiative must meet or agree to if it wants to be part of the Campaign. These criteria usually lead to close questions, which means that the answers are “yes” or “no”. These types of questions are the first filter that determines which initiatives will be evaluated by the Expert Review Group.

The initiatives that wish to join the campaign must:

- A. Share the goals of the R2R: To deliver a step-change in global ambition for climate resilience, putting people and nature first towards a 4 billion people goal, by taking transformative actions at scale that are measurable and/or by promoting enabling conditions and systemic transformations driving resilience.
- B. Be led by non-state actors.
- C. Be open to new members.
- D. Not be a project or programme led by an organization.
- E. Share knowledge and collaborate with other initiatives and partners to drive ambition.
- F. Commit to progress in the pathway to the race following the 4Ps: Pledge, Plan, Proceed and Publish.

Decision criteria

Criteria from which the Expert Review Group members have to make their assessment and decide if they recommend an initiative to become a partner. The initiative has to be willing to commit to this matter and justify it.

The initiatives that wish to join the campaign must commit to the following:

1. Resilience: Be committed to increasing resilience.
2. Theory of change: Deliver a step-change in global ambition for climate resilience.
3. Inclusivity: Be committed to deliver inclusive and equitable actions to groups and communities marginalized and vulnerable to climate risks
4. Sustainability: Not take actions which harm nature and ecosystems.
5. Impact at scale: Impact or have the potential to impact at scale (over 100.000 people).
6. Governance: Have the operational capacity and an active host that can collect and provide R2R with the data required for quantitative and/or qualitative metrics purposes from the initiative and its members.
7. Pledge: Commit to setting a target for resilience action for the partner initiative and its members (which impacts or systemic shifts does your initiative pledge to achieve?). The initiative has between 3 and 6 months after joining the campaign to refine its pledge(s) and ask its members to agree on it/them. If the initiative does not have a numeric target, it has to be willing to present a numeric pledge and present a plan on how to create that pledge up to 3 months from the moment the initiative is admitted in the Campaign. Initiatives also have to be willing to translate the pledges into numbers of people or hectares of land with increased resilience (using the Metrics Framework that will be provided).

8. Plan: Commit to present a clear and evidence-based plan to take action towards its committed pledge(s) in the next 3-6 months after presenting the pledge (how-through which actions- do you and your members plan to achieve that pledge?).
9. Process: Commit to take effective and immediate action towards achieving the pledge(s).
10. Publish: Commit to provide results and outcomes (reporting) that your actions are achieving and the evidence to back them (which validated outcomes have these actions achieved so far?).
11. Raise ambitions on targets.
12. Make new commitments and report on its targets at COP and beyond.
