Recall Notice for Food Establishments

Investigation of Illnesses: Diamond Shruumz-Brand Chocolate Bars, Cones, & Gummies (June 2024)

On July 30, 2024, The U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) published a list of store names and locations known to sell Diamond Shruumz-brand products. This comes after the FDA received numerous reports of retailers continuing to sell recalled products.

All Diamond Shruumz-brand products have been recalled and should not be sold. Consumers should not purchase any Diamond Shruumz-brand products. If you know of a retailer (online or in-person) continuing to sell recalled Diamond Shruumz-brand products, you can report this information to the FDA.

As of July 29, 2024, a total of 78 illnesses have been reported from 28 states. Sixty-five (65) of the 78 people have reported seeking medical care, 40 have been hospitalized, and there are two potentially associated deaths under investigation.

Products

All flavors of Diamond Shruumz-brand products have been recalled:

- Microdosing Chocolate Bars
- Infused Cones
- Micro-Dose and Mega-Dose/Extreme Gummies

Symptoms

People who became ill after eating Diamond Shruumz-brand products reported a variety of severe symptoms, including seizures, central nervous system depression (loss of consciousness, confusion, sleepiness), agitation, abnormal heart rates, hyper/hypotension, nausea, and vomiting.

Stores Affected

Diamond Shruumz-brand products have been recalled and should no longer be available for sale. These products were available online and in person at a variety of retail locations nationwide, including smoke/vape shops, and retailers that sell hemp-derived products such as cannabidiol (CBD) or delta-8 tetrahydrocannabinol (delta-8 THC).

The FDA is aware that, as of July 25, recalled Diamond Shruumz-brand products were still available for sale at several smoke/vape shops and retailers that sell hemp-derived products like cannabidiol (CBD) or delta-8 tetrahydrocannabinol (delta-8 THC). All Diamond Shruumz-brand products have been recalled and should no longer be sold.

The recall announcement includes a list of store names and locations where the recalled products were available for retail sale. However, there may be additional retailers not listed that are still selling the recalled product. This list will be updated as more stores are identified.

Status

Ongoing. Updates to this advisory will be provided as they become available.
