

API Access for RealGreen Customers

Securely access your RealGreen database for custom integrations and modifications.

RealGreen offers comprehensive market-leading functionality designed to be configurable to meet the needs of any green industry business. To further support your organization's unique workflow and needs, we offer access to your RealGreen data using secure and flexible, yet simple application programming interfaces (APIs).

You can use one of our API service bundles to develop a complementary application to RealGreen, such as:

Lead capture applications for outside sales staff

Custom mobile applications for field technicians

Customer-facing online portals matching your website branding

You can also use our API to integrate with other applications, including:

Phone systems

CRM software

E-commerce software
