A MAGICAL COLLECTION OF FABRIC AND WALLPAPER,
INSPIRED BY 100 YEARS OF CREATIVE HISTORY.

In celebration of Disney's 100th year, we have delved deep into the Sanderson archive to reveal a newly discovered selection of classic fabrics and wallpapers, sprinkled with a touch of Disney magic, for AW23. Here, Mickey Mouse, Minnie Mouse and Snow White bring whimsical dreams to life.

Donald Duck, Dumbo, Winnie the Pooh, and Bambi all feature in this delightful new collection, pairing Sanderson's iconic palette with Disney's timeless, characterful aesthetic and universal appeal. As well as our incredible archive, original animation stills, posters, brochures and character guidelines have inspired this new range of designs. Cherished memories of enchanting characters burst to life in nostalgic, sweet dessert-inspired colour.

Sanderson's collaboration with Disney began in 1928, the same year that Mickey Mouse featured in Steamboat Willie, where he captured hearts and minds to become a household name. As the 1930s dawned, so did the introduction of the Mickey Mouse newspaper comic strip – the perfect medium to translate onto wallpaper.

Now, almost 100 years later, Sanderson is thrilled to introduce a selection of original and faithfully interpreted fabric and wallpapers, showcasing a cast of iconic Disney characters.

"Our archive is a treasure trove of inspiration and it is our privilege to share this wonderful piece of nostalgia with the world. Disney is part of all our childhoods, representing joy, happiness and time spent with our families. This collection presents a piece of history, relaunching iconic 1930's Disney Home x Sanderson designs, alongside the addition of newly created fabrics and wallpapers, each featuring original Disney characters." Rebecca Craig, Lead Designer, Sanderson.

This magical launch incorporates 14 wallpapers and 12 fabrics in a palette of 25 delicious shades, including Puddle Blue, Whipped Cream, Sugared Almond, Macaron Green, Sea Salt and Chocolate. Each colour has been created to retain an archival look, akin to the original document, while at the same time, bringing each design to life in a way that's relevant for today.

A DIVE INTO THE ARCHIVE

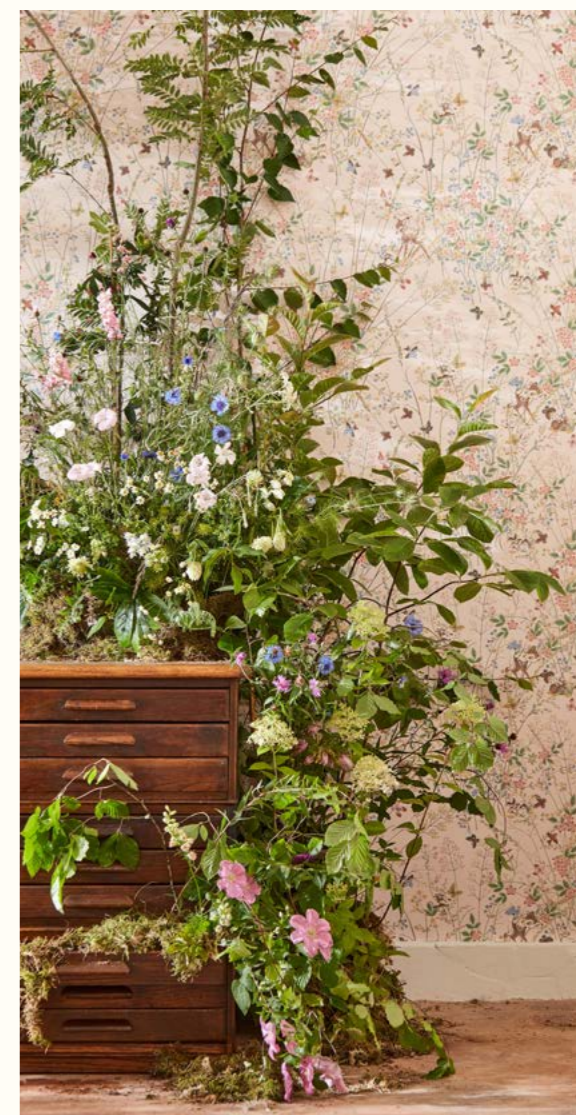

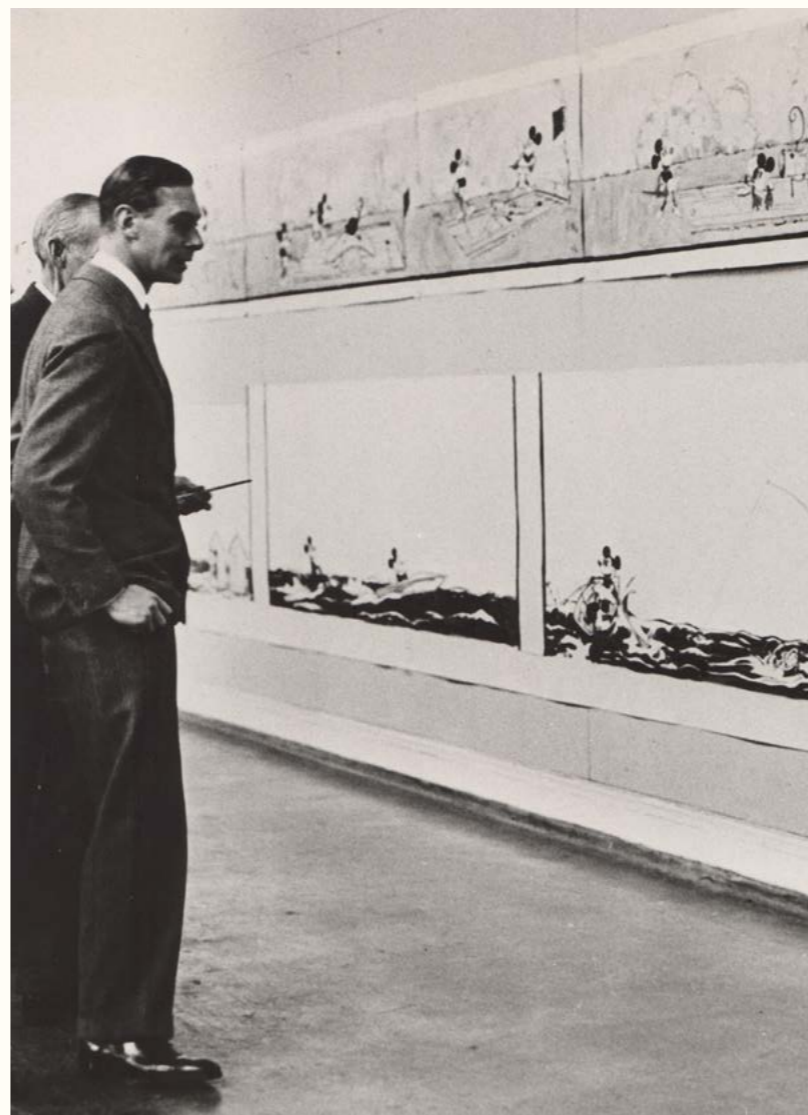

Sanderson's deep-rooted connection with Disney dates back to 1928.

Mickey Mouse made his debut appearance as Steamboat Willie, capturing the hearts and minds of a generation, which would be passed on for decades.

Sanderson was similarly enamoured with this soon-to-be iconic mouse and as we welcomed in the 1930s, we were commissioned by The Walt Disney Company to produce an exciting collection of wallpaper at our Perivale factory, followed by a range of accompanying fabrics, printed in Uxbridge, England.

This original collaboration was much lauded, with HRH the Duke of York, later King George VI, visiting Perivale and viewing some of our early collaborative work with Disney. Now, from the Sanderson archive we have unearthed some of these original archive documents, animation stills, posters and brochures to bring a newly discovered selection of classic fabrics and wallpapers.

Mickey Mouse, Minnie Mouse and Snow White, to name a few, return with a sprinkling of magic for new captivated audiences.
