Annual Turkish
M&A Review
2022

January 2023

Basis of Presentation

Transactions data presented in this report are based on information that is readily available in the public domain and include transactions with regulatory approval and closing procedures still ongoing at the year end.

This study does not include capital market transactions (except specific ones noted in the report), IPOs, real estate sales, intra-group share transfers and transactions of financial institutions within the framework of debt restructuring.

We do not accept any responsibility as to the accuracy or completeness of the data or as to whether all transactions listed herein will necessarily close.

Turkish M&A market sustained its vitality amid uncertainty

Turkish M&A activity remained resilient with c.11.5bn$ volume and over 450 transactions despite global macroeconomic and socio-political challenges. While the global transaction volume shrunk significantly in 2022, a steady momentum has been achieved in the Turkish market.

While the global pandemic has become an old memory, geo-political tensions, Europe's energy security constraints, rising interest rates and inflation, as well as the risk of recession, have emerged as new uncertainties. Despite such risks and challenges, the Turkish M&A market demonstrated a sustained level of activity with a total c.US$11.5 billion volume through 450 deals in 2022, indicating a slight increase of 14% y-o-y in terms of volume and a record high number of transactions. However, the same remark does not hold true for the global M&A market as the volume has significantly dropped this year by c.34% to c. US$3.1 billion compared to 2021.

The characteristics of the market were very similar to the previous year; technology and internet & mobile set the pace of the activity with 145 deals; a handful of big-ticket transactions dominated the annual deal volume with 4 transactions over US$500 million corresponding to 43% of total deal value. The largest deal of the year was the acquisition of Türk Telekom by Turkey Wealth Fund for a consideration of US$1,65 billion. Additionally, energy, financial services and fintech have been amongst the most active. Foreign investors shared the total deal volume almost evenly with local investors although the latter played a major role in terms of deal number with a 76% share.

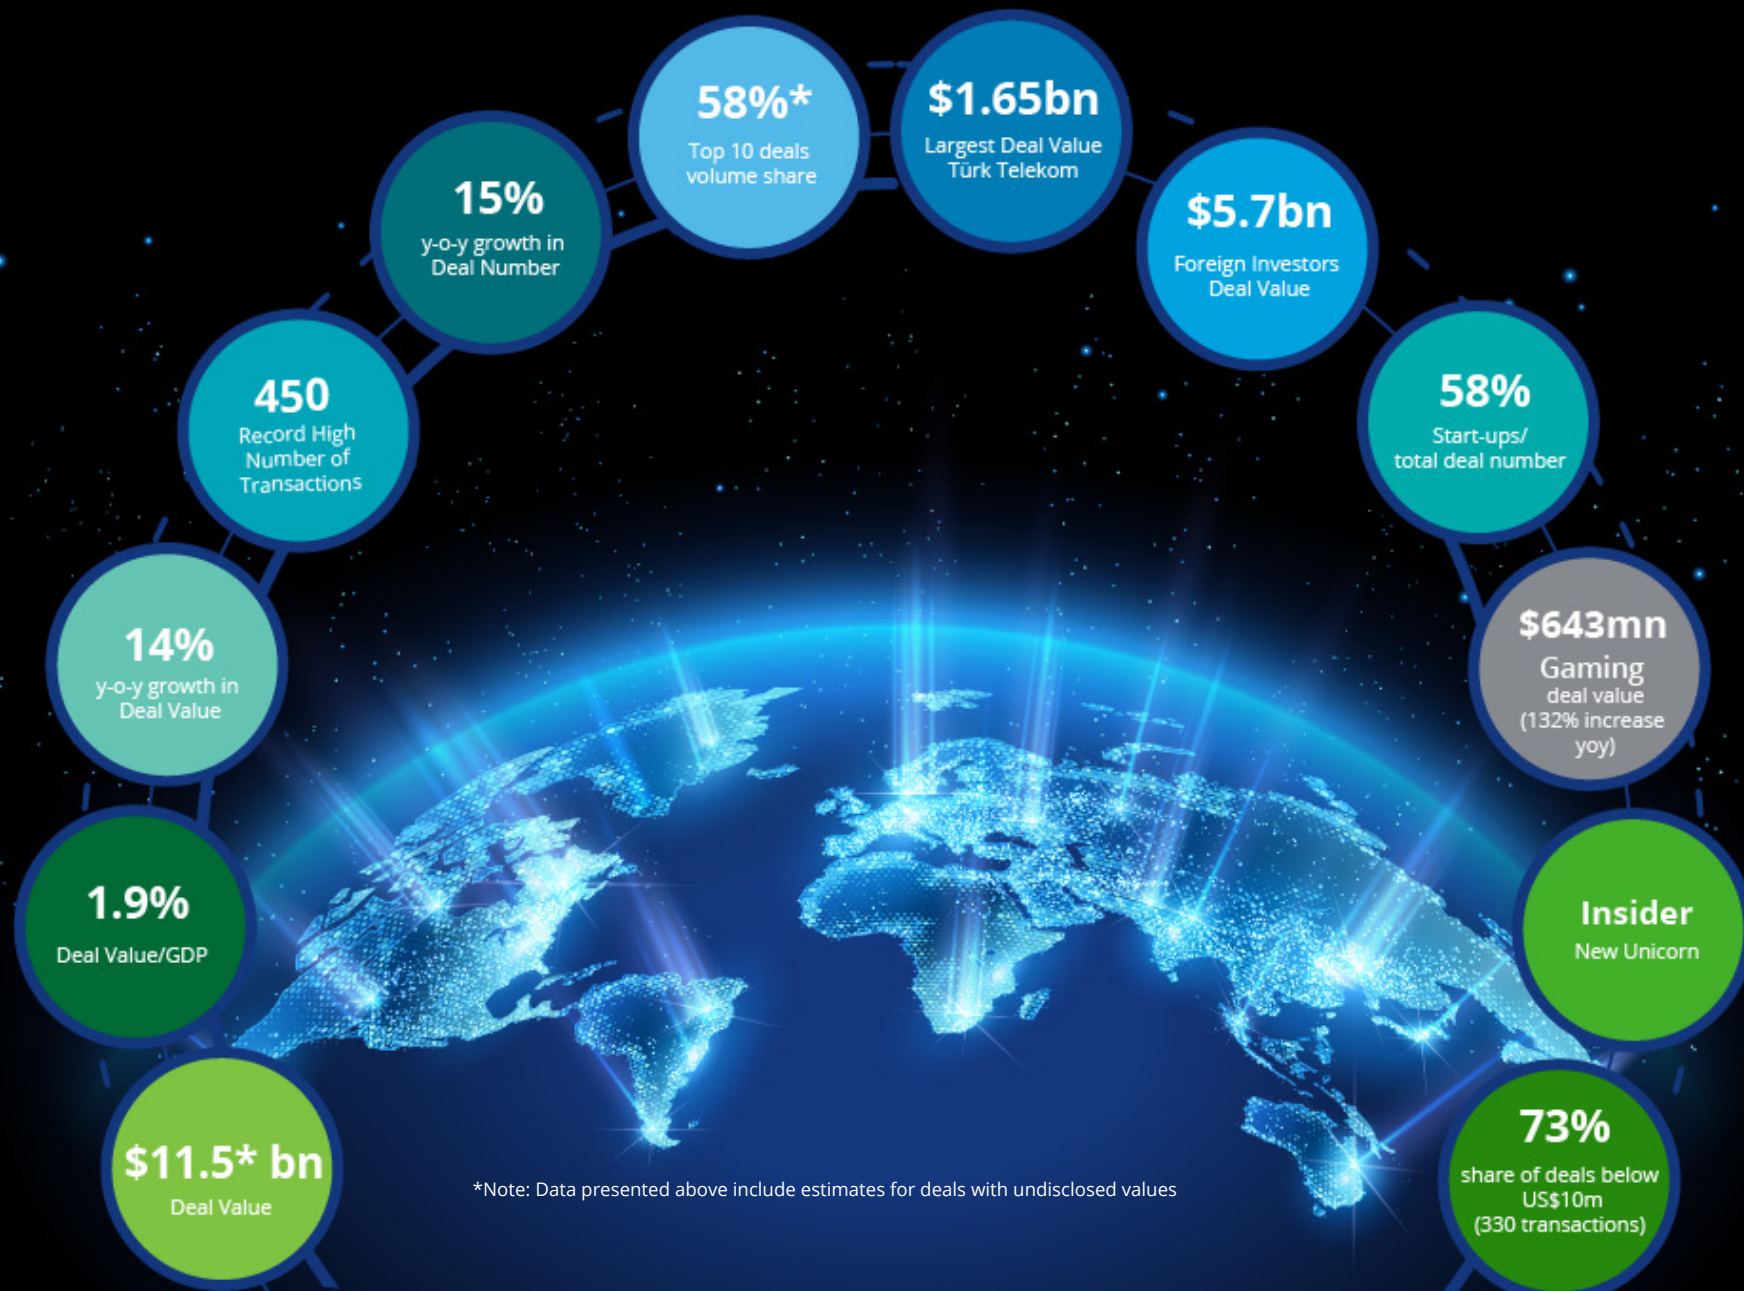

Despite macroeconomic turmoil, Turkey has kept its attraction for foreign investors. BBVA – Garanti Bank transaction was the largest deal inked by a foreign investor with US$1.4 billion value. Similar to previous years, investors from the Euro-zone were the most active foreign investors with 49 transactions. There has been increased interest from Gulf based investors with 16 transactions and US$2.3 billion volume. Strategic investments were at the forefront of the M&A market, comprising 56% share in total M&A volume, thanks to the investors aiming for returns over a long-term horizon. On the other hand, private equity deals are down c.83% to c.US$383 million compared to the previous year with 14 deals. In the absence of private equities, the financial investor deal volume was dominated by other financial investors like wealth funds and venture capitals.

Looking at the year on a quarterly basis, M&A activity has gradually slowed down each quarter, due to unfavorable macroeconomic and socio-political uncertainties. The same goes for the global M&A market, which poses concerns for next year's investment activity. Even though Turkey stands out amongst its peers in the EMEA region with its strong GDP growth of 5% (expected in 2022 per EIU data) and positive investment attributes over the post-pandemic period, investors take a prudent approach for the near term, ahead of the upcoming elections and volatile financial markets.

Ongoing confidence of strategic investors, resilient mid-market transactions and tech-driven venture capital investments present growth potential in M&A activity for the future. After disruption on supply chains, there has been strong demand from manufacturers to invest in their supply base, which are generally exporters with foreign currency earnings. In parallel with the growing importance of Turkey acting as a regional gaming hub as well as a rapidly growing start-up ecosystem, venture capitals and angel investors play a major role in the M&A scene. Such dynamics of the Turkish market ease concerns for the upcoming period.

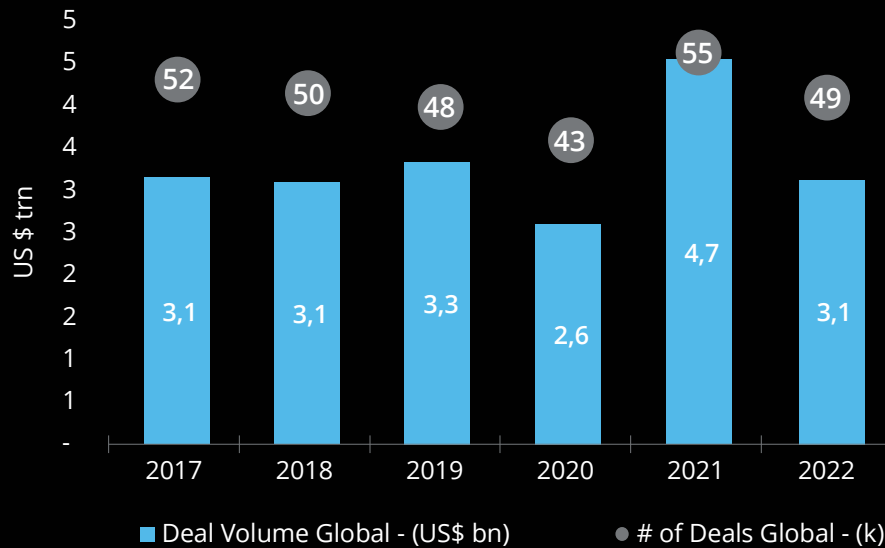

On behalf of our corporate finance team in Deloitte Turkey, we are delighted to share our annual Turkish M&A Review, featuring our analyses and views regarding the M&A market here.

At a glance

Global M&A market hit the brakes

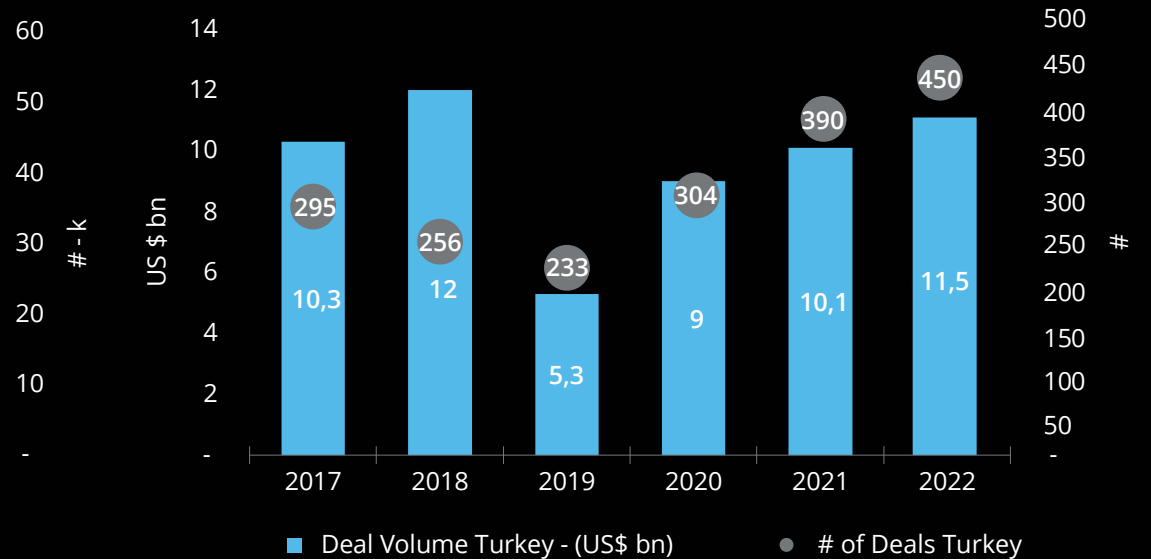

Global deal volume and # of deals

The global M&A market, which climbed to an all-time high in 2021, fell by c.34% y-o-y to c.US$3.1 trillion in 2022 (2021 - c.US$4.7 trillion), below the 5-year average (US$3.5bn) both in terms of volume and deal count. In fact, despite its one-off high growth in 2021, global M&A volume in 2022 reached a level parallel to pre-pandemic levels. On a quarterly basis, global M&A activity has slowed down in each consequent quarter, similar to the case in the Turkish market.

The investors have become more risk averse as the economic outlook deteriorates due to uncertainties and risks like increasing inflation, tighter economic policies, rising energy prices and ongoing geopolitical tensions.

Globally, industrials, real estate and information technology were the most active sectors. Large industrials and information technology deals dominated aggregate sector deal values. The biggest slump was in financial services. However, slowdown was clear across all sectors.

Turkish M&A Activity showcased a similar pattern compared to the past two years

*Note: Data presented above include estimates for deals with undisclosed values

Gulf investor M&A flow into Turkey surged to US$2.3 billion (including estimates for undisclosed values) in 2022, the highest figure in the last 5 years. Thereby investors from the Gulf constituted 41% of total foreign investors' deal value and 15% of deal count. Notable deals include the c.US$490 million investment of IHC of Abu Dhabi into Kalyon Enerji, the US$768 million investment round led by Mubadala of UAE into Getir and QIA's investment into Dream International Restaurants.

Similar to previous years, investors from the Euro-zone were the most active foreign investors with 49 transactions, while the contribution of Asia-Pacific was limited with only 2%. The share of investors from Europe in deal volume increased from 29% in 2021 to 39% in 2022.

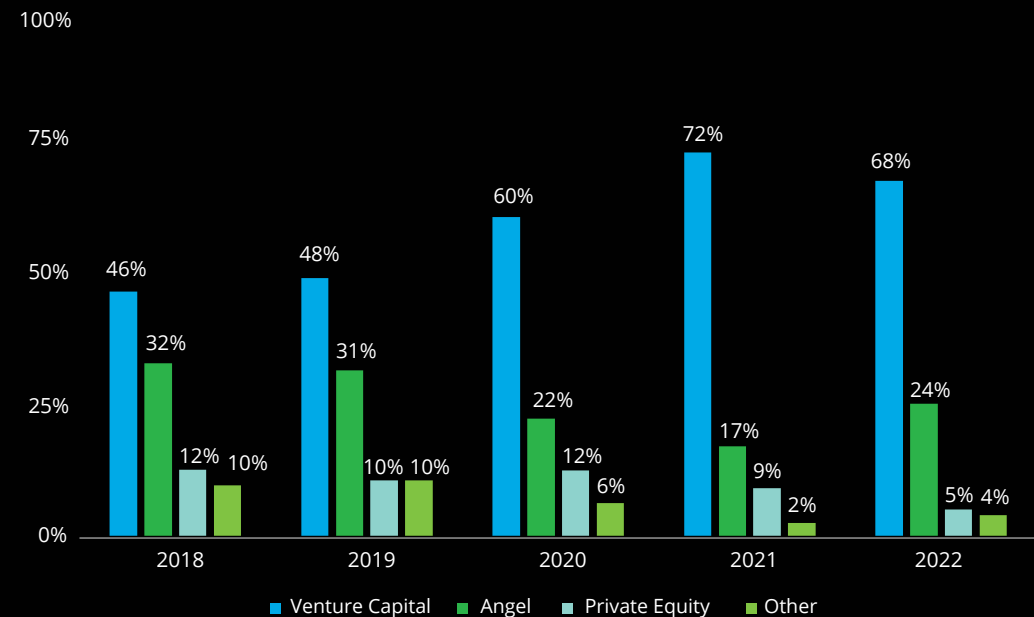

North American investors' deals decreased in 2022 to c.US$851 million across 26 deals compared to 32 transactions with a total value of approximately US$3.6 billion in 2021.

Venture Capital and Angel investors are still at the forefront

Financial Investor Activity (*)

Financial Investor Deal Number By Investor Type

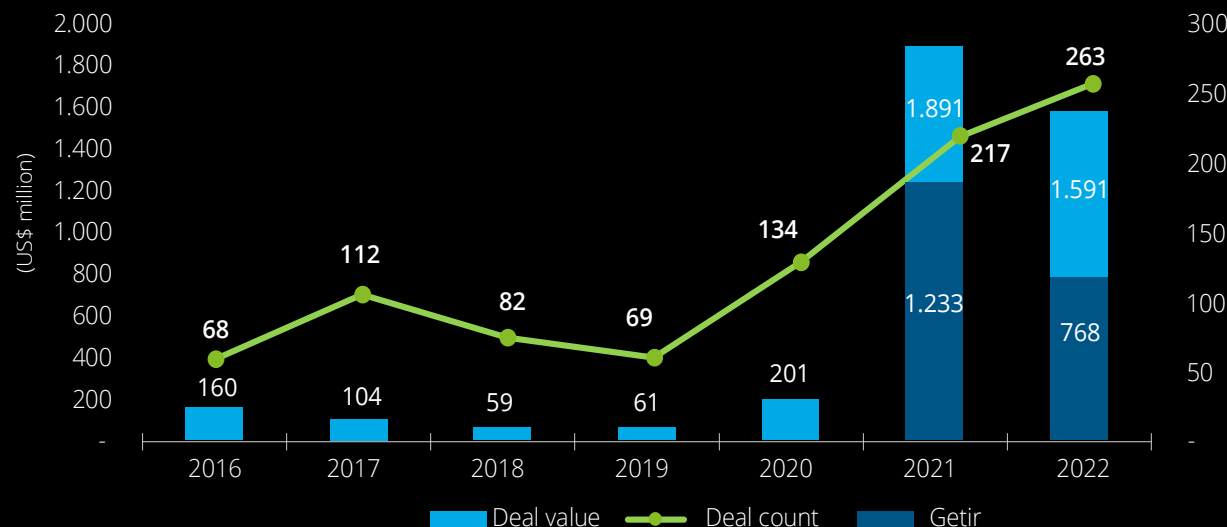

Note: Including estimates for deals with undisclosed values

In 2022, financial investors engaged in 288 transactions worth approximately US$5.1 billion (including estimates for undisclosed values), which corresponded to a y-o-y growth of 18% in deal number. On top of that, catalysed by the Türk Telekom and Getir transactions, financial investors deal value has shown an increase of 20%.

Among financial investors, the largest share (c.91%) in total deal number once again belonged to VC and angel investors with a total of 263 transactions. The contribution of those VC and angel investors to the overall deal number reached 58%, which was 56% of the overall deal number in 2021.

Technology, mobile and internet, e-commerce and gaming were the most attractive sectors for venture capitals

Turkey Venture Capital Deal Activity

Note: Including estimates for deals with undisclosed values

Note1: Only equity investments are counted, and deals include value estimates. Non-equity, IPO's, grants and convertible debts are excluded. Startups headquartered outside Turkey are excluded from the analysis.

Note2: An early-stage M&A transaction was not classified as a VC activity when a strategic investor had previously acquired majority of shares. i.e. the Getir deal is classified under VC activity.

Venture capital and angel investors deal value of c.US$1.6 billion across 263 deals, indicated a c.16% decrease in deal value and a c.21% increase in the number of deals. 2022 deal value was mainly driven by the c.US$768 million raised by Getir, the US$255 million raised by Dream Games and the US$121 million raised by Insider.

On a sectoral basis, 59% of the VC and angel deal count were within the internet and mobile services, technology, and financial services sectors. On the other hand, 11% of the transactions were related to startups from the gaming industry.

The promising Turkish market has become a hotspot for gaming investors in recent years. Turkey has become a major gaming hub across the world with more than 500 gaming studios. Gaming sector transactions hit up to c.US$643 million in 2022, increasing by c.133% y-o-y with more than 32 transactions. While the Dream Games funding round brought its value to c.US$2.75 billion, Spyke Games, founded by ex-Peak veterans, raised a record-breaking c.US$50 million from prominent US gaming VC Griffin Gaming Partners, thus becoming the largest seed round to have ever been funded in Turkey.

Private equity activity was sluggish

The largest 10 deals (including estimates for undisclosed values) correspond to 58% of total deal volume. There were only 4 transactions with a deal value over US$500 million. The largest announced transaction was the acquisition of Türk Telekom by Turkey Wealth Fund for a consideration of US$1,65 billion.

The vast majority of the transactions occurred in mid-market and small early-stage start-ups. There were 330 transactions with a deal value less than US$10 million corresponding to 73% of the total deal number. However, these transactions represented only 4% of total deal volume.

The average deal size including all transactions was US$26 million in 2022, similar to the previous year.

Financial services took the lead with share purchases of major banks' existing shareholders

Deal Number

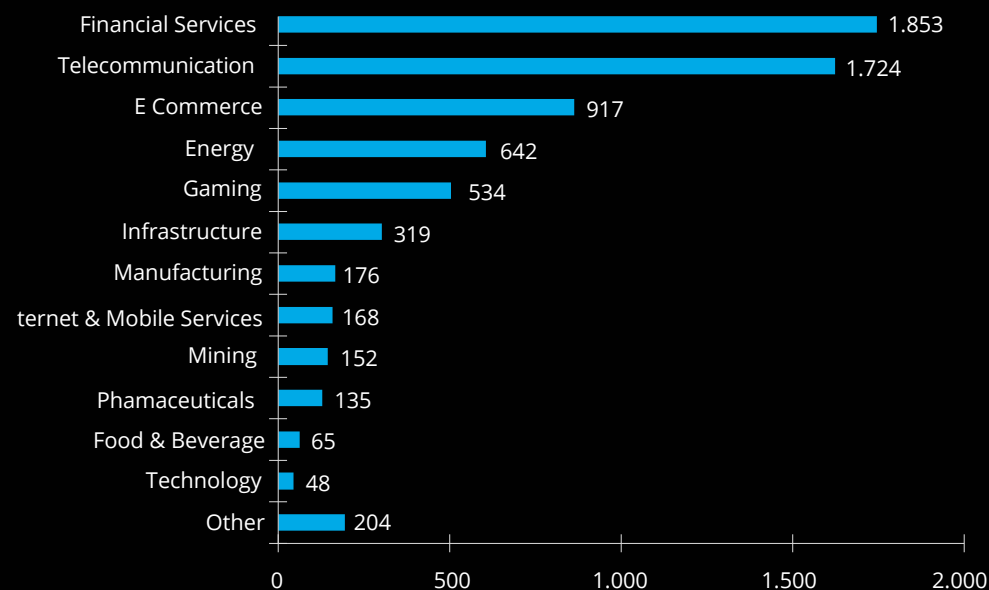

Technology and Internet & Mobile Services were the top performers by number of deals, collectively making up 32% of the total deal number in 2022.

Financial services took the lead with US$ 1.9 billion value, materialized through 44 transactions, and comprised 16% of the total annual deal volume. Technology driven transactions have been dynamic in 2022, similar to the previous year, with 89 transactions in c.US$48 million deal value.

Two consecutive years of growth in venture capital deals, mainly in tech and e-commerce, contributed to the development of related sectors, such as software, payment systems, ad-tech and AI based technologies.

Deal Value (Disclosed; US$ million)

A twofold increase in gaming deal value showcased continued investor interest in gaming throughout 2022. There were 32 deals in the gaming sector with a deal value of US$534 million compared to 38 deals and US$276 million in 2021.

Large transactions dominated the deal volume especially in the telecommunications, financial services and e-commerce sectors. The Türk Telekom, Garanti and Getir transactions accounted for 93%, 72% and 83% of sector M&A values, respectively.

More investors turn to energy sector M&A for energy transition and low-carbon sustainability purposes. In the upcoming period, more investors will target green energy transactions to incorporate ESG criteria in their businesses.

The energy (36), e-commerce (28), manufacturing (23), healthcare (19), logistics and transportation (16) and food and beverage (16) industries continued to draw strong interest from investors.

Deloitte refers to one or more of Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu Limited (“DTTL”), its global network of member firms, and their related entities (collectively, the “Deloitte organization”). DTTL (also referred to as “Deloitte Global”) and each of its member firms are legally separate and independent entities, which cannot obligate or bind each other in respect of third parties. DTTL and each DTTL member firm and related entity is liable only for its own acts and omissions, and not those of each other. DTTL does not provide services to clients. Please see www.deloitte.com/about to learn more.

Deloitte provides industry-leading audit and assurance, tax and legal, consulting, financial advisory, and risk advisory services to nearly 90% of the Fortune Global 500® and thousands of private companies. Our professionals deliver measurable and lasting results that help reinforce public trust in capital markets, enable clients to transform and thrive, and lead the way toward a stronger economy, a more equitable society and a sustainable world. Building on its 175-plus year history, Deloitte spans more than 150 countries and territories. Learn how Deloitte’s approximately 415,000 people worldwide make an impact that matters at www.deloitte.com.
